

Cotemar is awarded the Achilles certification for the fifth consecutive year

November 4, 2020

Mexico City, Mexico.- Cotemar announced today that, for the fifth consecutive year, it has received the Achilles Certification, recognizing Cotemar as a company that operates under national and international standards in terms of performance and risk management of the oil sector supply chain.

The Achilles certification is a basic requirement to participate in strategic projects with Petróleos Mexicanos (Pemex) since this certification confirms that the supply chains of Cotemar function and comply with the humanitarian and environmental standards of the state-owned company.

As every year, the audit was performed based on the Supplier Information Management Community for the South American Oil and Gas Industry (Siclar) standards, and it focused on the following aspects: Quality and Business Management, Corporate Social Responsibility, Industrial Safety, and Occupational Health, as well as the Environment, Human Resource Management, Information Security, Corporate Governance and Business Ethics.

“For Cotemar, ongoing improvement is a work philosophy that allows us to maintain high quality and safety standards. As such, we are constantly working hard to obtain new certifications or renew the ones we already have. The Achilles certification also allows us to ensure that we have the infrastructure and resources we need to complete public tenders on time,” said an internal Cotemar source.

It is worth noting that, although the rigorousness of the requirements to obtain the Achilles certification increase every year to benefit customers, Cotemar was recognized for its outstanding rating among the audited companies.

With a history that spans more than 40 years, Cotemar renews its commitment to optimize the performance of its operations and services to the fullest, always operating with cutting-edge technology and under high domestic and international standards that support the quality and safety of the projects in which it participates.
